

CAAF MASTER CLASS - Sunday 23 June 2019 8:00am - 3:00pm

The Canadian Audit and Accountability Foundation (CAAF) is a global research and education organization supporting and strengthening performance audit and accountability. CAAF's courses are built on a solid foundation of research in conjunction with its stakeholders, partner organizations, and experts in Canada and across the world.

The Root Cause Analysis (RCA) course is one of the newest additions to the CAAF's course line-up. The CAAF has agreed to provide the Auditors General of CAROSAI a special one-day Master Class which introduces the key concepts of root cause analysis in auditing.

This Master Class will include the following topics:

- Introduction to RCA
- RCA and the Audit Process
- Main Categories of Root Causes and Key Considerations
- RCA Tools

RCA results in better, more meaningful audit recommendations, increasing audit impacts. This course introduces hands-on, relevant tools, that enhance audit quality, and provide stakeholders with recommendations that address the underlying, root cause that is often missed. Audit recommendations are the auditors most critical tool to inform decision-makers. This course is designed to ensure they are more relevant, meaningful, and, implementable.
